

Cross Contour

Cross contour lines are parallel lines that are drawn to show the curves over an object's surface in a vertical or horizontal manner (or both) and reveal the item's surface characteristics. The study of cross contour can strengthen your observational abilities and understanding of form.